biotechnology CAN GET YOU THERE FASTER.

Nature Biotechnology is the premier peer-reviewed journal of biotechnology, providing reviews and reports on the research driving biotechnology innovations and their application in diverse fields—ranging from pharmaceuticals and agriculture, to energy and the environment. And Nature Biotechnology goes beyond providing research, giving you expert commentary on that research, along with analysis from respected opinion leaders in both the scientific and business communities.

By focusing on research with practical applications in multiple disciplines and industries, Nature Biotechnology brings you a wealth of interesting and useful data, concepts, and ideas. You get the most important research and news analysis being published today in all key areas of biotechnology, including...

- gene therapy
- transgenics
- regulatory compliance
- vaccine design
- agricultural biotechnology
- patents and licensing
- bioremediation
- drug design
- molecular evolution
