and get 5 FREE GIFTS to help you have more fun when you tee off.

Dear Golfer,

I'm an avid golfer—a real golf addict. And based on the list where I found your name, I am betting you are, too.

For me, there's no better time than tee-off time. No place I'd rather be than on a pristine green golf course. Nothing I'd rather be doing than crushing my drive, knocking it stiff with my 9-iron, then draining a putt for birdie.

Now, with a 60-day trial subscription to Golf Odyssey, you gain privileged access to some of the world's best courses while avoiding overrated tourist traps. Plus, when you accept my trial offer now, you get all 5 of the FREE GIFTS shown on the voucher at the top of this letter. That's a $600+ value – yours free, my gift to you.

Your ears and eyes on the world's best golf courses

You know how “secret shoppers” are sent by store managers to anonymously shop at their own stores – and then report on their shopping experience? Well, that's uncannily similar to the role the editors at Golf Odyssey play for our subscribers.

Specifically, we travel undercover and incognito as your “ears and eyes” to hundreds of golf courses worldwide ... to provide unbiased, objective reviews of the golf course, the staff, the experience, the accommodations, and the dining for our discerning, demanding readers. No wonder British Open winner Ian Baker-Finch calls Golf Odyssey “The Consumer Reports of golf travel.”

In the pages of Golf Odyssey, you'll discover the best and most unique golf vacations on the planet—from legendary golf courses like Pebble Beach, Kiawah, Whistling Straits, and Turnberry ...

... to lesser-known golfer's delights ranging from the most tranquil Texas golf retreat and the best Scottish golf destination you've never heard of.

What's more, as a subscriber, you may call us at any time to get advice from and ask questions of our editors directly – from suggestions on where to play for your 20th anniversary to the best accommodations when playing golf in Houston.

May we save you a small fortune on your golf habit this year?

As editor-in-chief of Golf Odyssey, I can — and do — empower my editorial team to dig for insider intelligence on golf travel to indulge my two passions. One is great golf on fabulous courses most golfers you know will never get to play.

The other is saving time and money. Not only by avoiding the “dog” golf courses that aren't worthy of you playing a single round. But a subscription to Golf Odyssey also brings you a cornucopia of valuable golf discounts and insider perks – more than I have room to describe here or list on your gift voucher.

I haven't told you yet about our most popular special report, "100 Places You Can Play Unlimited Golf." But it's yours free when you join as a member on a risk-free trial basis. We'll also spill the beans on the top 3 links courses in Ireland you can play for just $66 a round.

We recently shared with our readers the two famous British Open host venues that are better off skipped than played. We called out Shawnee Inn & Golf Resort as a course that simply fails to live up to its history. And we found that the Ocean Edge Golf Club not only isn't on the ocean's edge, but the only water you'll see during your round is confined to bogs and ponds! How valuable would it be to know the inside scoop on your next destination before you book your travel?
