Strain-free Deep Tissue Massage Therapy

THE PROBLEM

Massage therapists are trained to penetrate muscle tissue by applying pressure with their thumbs and fingertips.

WHY THIS METHOD IS BAD

- ✗ Patients don't like thumb and fingertip pressure, frequently complaining of discomfort.
- ✗ It wreaks havoc on the massage therapist, shortening your career by many years.
- ✗ The strain forces you to cut back on treatments, significantly reducing your annual income.
- ✗ It leads to occupational strain and injury followed by degenerative changes.

THE SOLUTION

Schweitzer's Deep Tissue Therapy 3-Day Intensive Workshop

WHY THIS SOLUTION WORKS

Schweitzer's techniques enable you to achieve optimal depth using your elbows, fist and hand and other foundational techniques instead of your thumbs and fingertips.

By creating power and engaging from the core you shift the emphasis off of your hands, reducing strain and injury.

HOW YOU COME OUT AHEAD

- ✓ Better therapeutic results – patients get the long-term relief from back pain, neck pain, stiffness, or whatever other symptom prompted them to seek treatment from you in the first place.
- ✓ Improved patient satisfaction – the discomfort caused by exerting pressure with your thumbs and fingertips is completely eliminated by using techniques that are not pain producing. Your patients will love this approach and will keep coming back for more.
- ✓ Reduced occupational strain – applying pressure with your elbow, fist and hand and other foundational techniques is much less stressful on your body, preventing the chronic pain that plagues many massage therapists.
- ✓ Increased billings – with reduced strain you can see more patients per day and you'll have more energy throughout the day.
- ✓ Greater professional status – you earn a 'Certificate of Completion' and this course is accredited in every province in Canada.
- ✓ A longer, more satisfying, more profitable career – the Schweitzer technique can add years to your career, allowing you to stay in business far longer than massage therapists who don't practice this methodology.

"My experience at Gary's workshop will significantly affect the way I approach every treatment for the rest of my career. I really appreciated the attention to detail and the thorough personal feedback that we all received."

—Deanne Underwood

"I now have the means to provide effective deep tissue therapy without the negative impact to my own body. Anyone who intends to have a long career in massage therapy needs to explore Schweitzer's Deep Tissue Therapy course."

—Harry Wojdak

"Participants in Schweitzer's Deep Tissue Therapy workshops reported their own body-based pain issues disappeared within the 3 days of the workshop." —Massage Therapy Canada Magazine

Schweitzer's Deep Tissue Therapy 3-Day Basic Workshop Curriculum at a glance

In Schweitzer's Deep Tissue Therapy Workshop, you master new techniques that allow you greater access to the deeper musculature, with the least amount of effort, and the highest degree of safety, efficiency, and precision.

Nine out of ten massage therapists who complete the Schweitzer workshop eliminate their body based pain — and by applying the biomechanical postures coupled with techniques that are user friendly, you can continue to work pain-free throughout the rest of your career.

Module One	Treatment of the Back
Module Two	Treatment of the Back
Module Three	Treatment of the Hip, Thigh, and Leg
Module Four	Treatment of the Anterior Thigh, Leg, and Foot
Module Five	Treatment of the Posterior Shoulder Girdle, Arm, and Forearm
Module Six	Treatment of the Anterior Shoulder Girdle, Arm, Forearm, and Cervical Spine

"After a busy day, my shoulders would ache and my forearms would burn. I now know how to use my body effectively by using proper body mechanics while working at a much deeper level. Thank you, Gary."

—Avalon Peterson
