LIGNET from Newsmax — a globally recognized intelligence and forecasting online service prepared by former CIA analysts, national security officers, ex-ambassadors, top reporters, and presidential advisers — has just published a new series of Special Reports: 2014 LIGNET Global Forecast.

This timely forecast and analysis of the planet's geopolitical, economic, military, and energy landscape can help you understand and navigate the sea changes in store for the U.S. and the world in 2014.

In 2014 LIGNET Global Forecast, you will discover:

- How Barack Obama's lack of leadership puts global security in peril.
- Whether 2014 will be the year that America's economic woes finally come to an end.
- How to profit from America's new oil boom now that U.S. oil production has surpassed Saudi Arabia's.
- The coming global fallout from China's insatiable appetite for natural resources.
- Could Shinzo Abe's economic policies in Japan lead to a worldwide currency war?
- The growth of al-Qaida in the Middle East and Africa: an escalating threat to America's safety.
- How U.S. withdrawal from Afghanistan will affect Pakistan and Central Asia.
- What we can expect from Kurdish separatists this year.
- Assessing the probability of an economic collapse in China — and what it means to America's economy.
- Will John Kerry's peace process for Israel and Palestine unravel at the seams?
- The continuing ramifications of the Snowden leaks on cyber security and U.S. intelligence.
- Wild-card leaders: the awful truth about Kim Jong Un and Vladimir Putin.
